DTH Drilling Rig Cost in Turkey 2025: Price List, Quotation & Buying Guide

Wondering how much a DTH drilling rig costs in Turkey? You're not alone. With Turkey's booming construction and mining sectors, demand for these rigs has surged by 18% since 2023 (Turkish Statistical Institute). But prices vary wildly - from $50,000 to $500,000 - leaving buyers confused about fair deals.

Why DTH Rig Prices Fluctuate in Turkey

Let's break down the key factors impacting DTH drilling rig cost:

Depth capacity: 100-meter models start at $58,000, while 600-meter versions hit $480,000

Horsepower: 300HP units average $215,000 vs. 700HP at $390,000

Supplier origins: Chinese-made rigs cost 30% less than German equivalents

Case Study: TurkMine's $227,000 Savings

An Ankara-based mining company purchased a 400HP rig from China's XY Machinery for $173,000 instead of paying $400,000 for a European model. Over 3 years, they drilled 40% faster while cutting maintenance costs by $54,000 annually.

2025 Price Trends: Smart Buying Strategies

Turkey's new infrastructure projects will require 1,200+ new drilling rigs by 2026. Here's how to secure the best price per piece:

Compare quotations from 3+ suppliers (local and international)

Negotiate bulk discounts for 5+ units

Verify after-sales support - 47% of buyers regret skipping this

ROI Analysis: Local vs Imported Rigs

A Turkish-made 350HP rig costs $198,000 with 3-year warranty. Imported alternatives from the US or Germany run 25-40% higher, but offer better resale value. For budget-focused buyers, Chinese suppliers like Sinocoredrill provide rigs at $135,000-$220,000 with 12-month warranties.

One Istanbul contractor told us: "We got a customized DTH rig quote in 4 hours from a Shanghai supplier. Saved $81,000 compared to local dealers."
