Engineering Drilling Rig for Sale in France: 2025 Price List, Supplier Quotes & ROI Guide

If you're asking "how much does an engineering drilling rig cost in France," you're likely planning a construction, mining, or infrastructure project. Prices in 2025 range from EUR50,000 for small used rigs to over EUR600,000 for heavy-duty models. But cost depends on rig type, depth capacity, and whether you rent or buy. Let's unpack current price lists, French supplier deals, and how to maximize your ROI.

2025 Engineering Drilling Rig Prices in France: What's Driving Costs?

France's infrastructure boom has pushed demand for engineering drilling rigs up 12% since 2022. The average buyer spends EUR180,000-EUR350,000 on mid-sized rigs like rotary or percussive drills. However, three factors dramatically impact your quotation:

Depth capacity: 0-200m rigs cost EUR50k-150k; 500m+ rigs exceed EUR500k

Power source: Diesel models are 20% pricier than electric but dominate remote sites

Import vs. local: Chinese rigs (e.g., SANY) cost 30% less than German/French brands

Where to Buy Engineering Drilling Rigs in France: 3 Proven Options

Supplier choice affects delivery time, warranties, and total cost. Top options:

Local dealers like Eurofor (Marseille) offer Bauer and Atlas Copco rigs at 5-8% premiums but include maintenance. Importing from China through Alibaba saves up to EUR80k, but delivery takes 8-12 weeks. Used market platforms like MachineryZone list 2020 models for 35-60% off original price per piece.

New Policy Alert: France's 2025 Tax Incentives

Projects using automated or hybrid rigs in Ile-de-France and Hauts-de-France qualify for EUR15,000-EUR45,000 subsidies. This drops the ROI period from 5 years to 3.5 years for a EUR300k rig generating EUR85k/year.
