Second Hand Core Drilling Rig Price in Indonesia 2024: Cost List, Quotation & Supplier Deals

Why Contractors Are Switching to Used Core Drilling Rigs

Need a core drilling rig but worried about budget? You're not alone. Over 65% of Indonesian contractors now choose second-hand equipment to save costs while meeting tight deadlines. Let's break down why second hand core drilling rig price in Indonesia is the hottest topic right now.

The New vs. Used Price Gap

A brand-new rig costs $30,000-$80,000 USD. But a quality used core drilling rig in Jakarta starts at just $12,000. That's 60% savings - enough to fund your next project's safety gear or extra labor. Popular Chinese brands like Sany and XCMG dominate 43% of Indonesia's used market due to affordable spare parts.

3 Hidden Costs You MUST Check

Service History: Rebuilt engines add $1,500-$4,000 value

Import Taxes: 10% VAT + 7.5% duty for non-ASEAN units

Tool Compatibility: Verify diamond bits fit older models

Last month, a Bali resort project saved 28 days using a refurbished German Bauer rig from Surabaya. "We paid $21,000 - half the new price," said site manager Putra Wijaya. "The ROI came in 3 months."

Where to Find Reliable Suppliers

Jakarta's Pasar Rebo Market stocks 120+ verified units monthly. For online deals, check:

Alibaba's "Gold Supplier" partners with 8 Indonesian warehouses

Lelong .id's heavy machinery auctions every Thursday

Government infrastructure plans (Rp 500 trillion for 2024-2029) mean demand will rise. Smart buyers get price quotes now before monsoon season hikes transport fees.

Your 5-Step Buying Guide

1. Compare price per piece from 3 suppliers
2. Test hydraulic pressure (min. 25 MPa)
3. Negotiate 3-month warranty
4. Budget $800-$1,200 for Jakarta-Medan shipping
5. Apply for BPJS Ketenagakerjaan equipment insurance
