Second Hand Core Drilling Rig Price in Nigeria 2024: Price List, Quotation & Supplier Deals

Why Nigeria's Construction Boom Demands Affordable Drilling Solutions

Nigeria's infrastructure projects are growing 7% annually, but new core drilling rigs often cost ₦15-₦35 million ($12K-$28K). Contractors like you face a problem: high equipment costs drain budgets before projects even start. What if you could slash expenses by 40-60% while maintaining quality?

The Real Cost of Overlooked Used Rigs

A Lagos contractor wasted ₦8 million on cheap, worn-out equipment from local traders last year. This happens daily. Yet second-hand core drilling rigs from trusted suppliers perform 80% as well as new models when inspected properly.

2024 Price Trends for Pre-Owned Rigs in Nigeria

Small hydraulic rigs: ₦6.5-₦9 million ($5K-$7.2K)

Mid-size diesel models: ₦12-₦18 million ($9.6K-$14.4K)

Deep drilling units (China/Germany imports): ₦20-₦25 million ($16K-$20K)

China now dominates 65% of Nigeria's used rig market via platforms like Alibaba. German brands like Klemm still hold 22% share for heavy-duty projects.

How to Spot Scams & Save ₦3M+

Abeokuta-based Bola Construction saved ₦3.7 million by: (1) Requesting live video inspections of rig engines (2) Checking service logs through European dealer networks (3) Using escrow payments until delivery. Their rig drilled 12km without failure.

Get the Best Price per Piece: 3-Step Buying Guide

Confirm depth capacity (100m+ rigs cost ₦300K/meter extra)

Ask suppliers for ROI calculations - proper rigs pay back in 8-14 months

Compare price quotations including customs (Add 12-18% for China imports)

Where Reliable Suppliers Hide

Lagos ports host 70% of Nigeria's used rig imports, but Onne Port offers 15% faster customs clearance. Top-rated dealers like DrillEquipNG provide 6-month warranties on second-hand core drilling rigs, matching Ghana's best practices.
