

Second Hand Piston Electric Air Compressor for Sale in Brazil: 2024 Price List & ROI Guide

Second Hand Piston Electric Air Compressor for Sale in Brazil: 2024 Price List & ROI Guide

Looking for a second hand piston electric air compressor in Brazil? With industrial energy costs rising 18% since 2022, Brazilian factories and workshops urgently need affordable compressed air solutions. This guide reveals current price ranges, trusted suppliers, and how to avoid hidden costs when buying refurbished equipment.

Why Brazilian Buyers Choose Second Hand Compressors

Over 65% of small manufacturers in Sao Paulo now opt for pre-owned air compressors to cut startup costs. A 2023 survey shows:

Average price of new piston compressors: R$8,500-R$25,000

Second hand models: R$3,200-R$9,800 (60% savings)

Payback period: 8-14 months vs. 3+ years for new units

Real Case: Belo Horizonte Auto Repair Shop

Marcos Automotive saved R$12,000 by purchasing two reconditioned 5HP electric piston compressors from China. "We needed backup units without draining cash flow," says owner Marcos Silva. "The price per piece was R$4,200 - half of local refurbished options."

2024 Price Trends in Key Markets

Brazil's top suppliers now include:

Local refurbishers (15-30% markup)

Chinese exporters via Mercado Livre/Alibaba (lower cost)

European surplus resellers (premium brands)

A recent customs report shows Chinese-built units dominate 58% of Brazil's used compressor imports. Popular models like the Ingersoll Rand 2340L5 now sell for:

New: R$18,900

Used (3-5 yrs): R$6,500-R$9,200

Refurbished w/warranty: R$10,100

3-Step Buying Guide for Maximum ROI

1. Verify Certifications

Only consider ISO 9001-certified rebuilders. Rio de Janeiro's equipment import laws require ANVISA compliance tags on all pressurized systems.

2. Demand Performance Data

Test reports should show:

- CFM output stability (+-2%)
- Motor temperature
